Secretary, Federal

Communications Commission.

From:

Stanley J siems

CNS internet services

Cns has been an ISP since 1995 we have progressed from a dial up service to a fixed wireless service using unlicensed wireless frequency. Several years ago, the FCC imposed a rule requiring us to report all of the users of or service which has become a real problem as to the time and cost of meeting requirements and serves no real purpose. Our area has been overbuilt by both fiber and wireless companies using our free tax dollars tax dollars. We have lost very few customers to these new competitors and are adding 20 to 30 customers per month due to our services being available for about 50% less then the competition. No company should ever receive free tax dollars from the government. BEAD is a waste of taxpayer money.

Thanks’

Stanley J Siems